

Case study

Sound Waves Foundation

Sound Waves Foundation aims to empower deaf children and young adults so they can achieve their true potential in education and life, by using technology to aid learning.

Sound Waves Foundation works with schools to set them up with live captioning to allow deaf children to fully participate in their classes. The Customer Donation Fund has allowed Sound Waves Foundation to give more schools access to hardware such as microphones and the necessary support to launch live captioning in classes, transforming the education experience for their students.

Without this donation, Sound Waves would not have been able to support as many students.
